

In the year 900,000 humanity has used a brute force approach to conquer the entire universe and is the most technological advanced species in their universe. But after 100,000 years of peace a new threat emerges from the multiverse. (the void between universes) as the fight for survival begins a small squad of humanity's most elite spec-ops division the aurora are sent beyond the barrier (a huge energy shield that protects our whole universe from invasion and blocks enemy transmissions.) to stop the threat before it's too late. Because if they get enough firepower in our universe then it's all over.

This is their story.

The Eden's is a fast paced, sci-fi, action, adventure novel that looks at how far technology could progress and takes the reader to the edge of our universe and into the multiverse.
